

DEAR SANTA!

Christmas is the season of goodwill but on the British bowling scene it all appears rather one sided at the moment. The differences between BTBA and the proprietors were ironed out some nine months ago but other than a variety of amendments to the BTBA Constitution designed, apparently, to meet the requirements of the proprietors no other changes have been observed.

The joint statement issued by the proprietors and BTBA in March this year was to the effect that the TPBA recognised the need for a healthy players association and would closely co-operate with BTBA in order to develop better bowling and more bowlers. The bowlers association have, reluctantly in some quarters, agreed to accept inspection and certification of lanes and equipment by independent surveyors but would seem to be totally unaware of the specifications that the surveyors are actually using. Whether or not their inspection extends to such items as pin spotting, gutter depths and machinery specifications to include the condition of pins, kick back plates, aprons and the like is not known. Whether the surveyors or their employees have ever bowled is also not known and in consequence would they be likely to recognise say, a continuous groove into the pocket that was within specifications?? Are you being protected? We in SEBA do not know.

The certificate issued by the surveyors, Messrs Gooch & Wagstaff of 24/25, Ironmonger Lane, Bank, London, E.C.2. states that the lanes in YOUR centre(Whitstable, Southend and Hoddesdon excluded) conform to the proprietors specifications and to international playing standards. The only international standards are those of the World governing body, F.I.Q., who have already complained that their sanction to the wording used on the certificate has not been given.

The TPBA, if they have standards, have not published them.

This state of suspended animation does not instill very much confidence in the bowler and neither does the mandatory regulation of the proprietor's association that their members shall not sanction any tournament that they promote. Even if a member of the TPBA wants a sanction for his tournament he is not allowed to apply for one and has to turn to a local BTBA Area who pretend to run the show. Many proprietors used to promote the BTBA among their leagues but, with a few exceptions, this appears now a thing of the past. The proprietors have duplicated, or attempted to duplicate, nearly every service that your association provides and, ostensibly, gives away their league kits and badges free of charge. That you will pay for the 'service' in the long run, however, there is little doubt and already we hear of a proposal to raise prices to 4/6d for open play and 4/-d for league. The excuse, if it comes about, will undoubtedly be the devaluation of the £ but one must wonder at the cost to the proprietor of the services now given to unsanctioned leagues.

DEAR SANTA, for Christmas we would like a renewed air of truth and confidence. If any differences still remain let them be stated and resolved rapidly. The worst has been over for some time but these niggles persist and could magnify if nothing more is done to jointly promote the sport of tempin bowling. A very MERRY CHRISTMAS.

What is the essential difference between a good bowler and a bad bowler? The number of pins he or she knocks down you may say. But a person can have consistently high scores and still be a "bad" bowler. The difference is etiquette. A "good" bowler may knock down a lot of pins but a "better" bowler is one who has etiquette. No one is perfect, but a few bowlers may be using habits that are making them unpopular. Here are twenty questions that will enable you to test your own bowling etiquette. Answer them truthfully to find out whether you are a real paragon on the lanes, just average, or have serious problems:

- 1. When I arrive at the approach at the same time as the bowler on my right, I always let him or her have the right of way. TRUE/FALSE
- I always pick up my ball from the ball return with both hands and never by the finger holes.

  TRUE/FALSE
- 3. I never use bad language when bowling.

4. I never lose my temper when bowling.

- 5. I never complain when I, or my team, loses.
- 6. I usually congratulate the other team when they win.
- 7. I never take food or drink into the bowling areas.
- 8. I never use talcum powder on the approach if I find it sticky, so that other bowlers who do not find them sticky, are hindered.

  TRUE/FALSE
- 9. I never yell at another bowler just as their approach has started.

  TRUE/FALSE
- 10.I never make fun of another bowler who misses an easy spare.

  TRUE/FALSE
- 11.I never brag about the high scores I bowl and rarely complain about low ones.

  TRUE/FALSE
- 12.I never run in front of another bowler to pick up my ball from the ball return just as they start on their approach.

  TRUE/FALSE
- 13.I never get mad and kick the ball return.
- 14.I rarely complain to the manager about, what I think, are poor scoring conditions.

  TRUE/FALSE
- 15.I never use another person's bowling ball without their permission.

  TRUE/FALSE
- 16. I never say that I am a better player than someone else.

17. I am always ready to bowl when it is my turn.

18. I never criticise another bowlers bowling form.

HOW TO SCORE YOUR ETIQUETTE RATING

etiquette.

If you had a perfect score of 20 TRUE you are a Super-duper Bowling Human.

If you had 18 or 19 youre very good and eligable to teach good bowling

If you scored between 15 and 17 you're about average,

If you had between 12 and 14 you have a few personal problems that you should get straightened out.

If you had 10 or 11 you are unpopular with nearly everyone in the centre.

If you had less than 10 you should either give the game up or see a psycologist without delay.

The draw took place at Bexleyheath Bowl on 16th. November. It was supervised by the S.E.B.A. Secretary, Brian Langford and the Bowl Manager, Jack Roe. A member of the Olympic League, who was bowling at the time, drew the tickets.

No fewer than three S.E.B.A. Executive Officers are now centre managers. Ex Presidents Ray Price and Brian Morrison are managing Piccadilly and Edgware respectively and Brian Snook has taken over Whitstable from Peter Field who has moved to Humber Bowl, Crawley. The very best of luck fellas and you can be certain of S.E.B.A. cooperation at any time.

Following these changes a reorganisation of the Executive has taken place and your officers, subject to continuance at the next A.G.M. are as follows:-

These officers are there to help YOU. Advise them of any problem you may encounter and for advice upon league, tournament or any other matter in relation to tenpin bowling. USE YOUR OFFICERS.

Two years ago we published details of special seasonal tournaments that could be operated by leagues and indicated whether they would be covered within the normal league senction. A namber of members have asked for the information to be repeated and from our December 1965 issue here it is:-

"Get Acquainted" Doubles

Accept entries from an equal number of men and lady bowlers. Luck of the draw will determine the partners or, what might be better, match the sexes on the basis of their respective averages, i.e. the highest average male bowler with the lowest average female. The event could be run on either a scratch or handicap basis and would be covered by the league sanction.

Alibi Tournament

This is designed for the bowlers who always complain that they have one bad game. The tournament simply consists of one 4 game series in which each participant is allowed to drop the game with the lowest score from his or her series. The league sanction would cover the tournament except that only the first three games rolled would be allowed for a series record or award.

Head Pin Tournament

When you miss the headpin you have in fact missed half the lane! A good test of your ability is this tournament where if you miss the head pin with the first delivery the frame scores zero. If you hit the headpin with the first ball you score in the normal way. This one is not sanctionable.

"Scotch" Doubles

There are two types of Scotch Doubles:

The partners take alternate shots regardless of the situation.
 One bowler throws the first ball in each frame and the partner rolls the second if the first ball does not strike. Should the first ball strike, however, the partner then leads off until he in turn strikes, when the positions are again reversed. This event is not sanctionable but can be good fun and, of course, the bowling rate is such that 6 games can be bowled for the price of 3.

3 X 6 X 9 Tournament

This involves a regular game with the exception that each bowler is presented with 3 free strikes in the 3rd, 6th and 9th frames of each game. By actually bowling 3 frames less per game a reduced bowling rate can conceivably be obtained and the 4 games could be played for the price of 3. Not sanctionable.

Low Game

The object is to score as little as possible but to keep the ball on the lane. If the first ball in the frame is a gutter ball this counts as a strike and no second ball is rolled. If you gulley your second ball having knocked down at least 1 pin with the first delivery this counts as a spare. A "perfect game" is 20 pins but of course a sanction is not possible.

Numbered Pin Game

The highest score wins. The pin for the number of each frame, i.e. the headpin in the first frame, the number 2 pin in the second frame etc, must be knocked down for any score in that frame to count. If, for example, your first ball takes 7 pins but leaves the headpin standing you score nothing on this delivery. If your second ball, however, takes the headpin and the others left standing with it, the score for the frame is "3". It is NOT a spare. Apart from this strikes and spares count as normal provided the "numbered pin" is taken with the first ball. Not sanctionable.

Normal events for high games and series etc

Any properly scored tournament run within the normal league schedule and played in accordance with BTBA rules is automatically covered by the league sanction and no special application for a tournament sanction is required. Have fun!

LES COLE bowling in the Cliftonville Husband & Wife League on 28th. October earned himself a BTBA Chevron when he converted the 4-6-7-10 Split. Well done Les.

On the subject of splits we have been hearing of a few wierdies lately but nothing to top the 'Big Six' left at Bexleyheath by TONY KITCHING bowling in the Roundtable League. Somehow Tony, who bowls a big left handed bender, found himself facing the 2-4-6-7-9-10! When the laughter died down Tony proceeded to convert it and went on to a 206 game that formed part of the 640 trios record for The Committee shown in the Area Hi's!
